Are you ready to power up your career? At Roughrider Electric Cooperative, we're on the lookout for a dynamic, forward-thinking Accounting Analyst to join the expanding team in our Dickinson office. We're not just another employer; we're a passionate, progressive cooperative dedicated to providing unwavering support to our valued members.

Why choose Roughrider Electric? Our commitment to our employees is strong, just like our commitment to our members. We believe in a supportive work environment that not only allows you to thrive professionally but also ensures a healthy work-life balance. Here's what you can expect:

- Competitive compensation: Hard work deserves recognition. An Accounting Analyst at REC can expect to earn $61,000 - $75,000 in this role, depending on experience.
- Comprehensive benefits package: Your well-being is a priority. We've got you covered so you can focus on work-life balance.
- Ideal work-life balance: Time is valuable! We are committed to the importance of balance.

Key responsibilities: As an Accounting Analyst at Roughrider Electric, you'll play a key role in accounting and billing functions of the cooperative. In addition, you'll have the opportunity to expand your learning by performing various other cooperative accounting functions. Safety at Roughrider Electric is a top priority.

Qualifications: We're looking for someone with the right blend of experience and skills:

- Bachelor's degree in accounting or finance.
- 2-5 years of continuous accounting experience.
- Experience using NISC iVUE applications, and the utility industry is preferred.
- Prior RUS accounting experience is desired.
- A valid North Dakota driver's license.
